

Friday, January 26, 2007

Reliance Aerotech Launches New Benefit Program

General Manager of Reliance Aerotech Services Inc. Ron Jordan, announced the launch of a new benefits program. The company's new preferred employer program is a result of annual surveys undertaken by Reliance Aerotech since 2003 with both aviation maintenance managers and contract maintenance professionals. The program follows a detailed 2005 survey in which approximately 350 contract maintenance professionals participated. New initiatives in Reliance Aerotech Service's benefits program include a pre-tax, corporately administered medical insurance program including prescription drug and vision discounts as well as wellness care coverage.